Vulcan Defeats Carmangay in Good Exhibition Game

Owing to a severe dust and wind storm on the 25th of May the baseball tournament for that day in Vulcan was called off. But as the wind went down about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and Carmangay team was in town, it was decided to play an exhibition game.

A feature of the game was the consistent good hitting of the Vulcan team and the stellar pitching of Busby, Vulcan's pitcher, who struck out fourteen batters and allowing only a few scattered hits. Busby will be remembered by the older baseball fans as being a star player on the Vulcan team of 1924, and is now a resident of Turner Valley. It is to be hoped he will be seen in action on the local diamond again this summer.

Ray Flynn's home run in the third inning drew good applause as did good hitting by Busby, Marshall, Murray and Recor. A double play was made by Vulcan in the sixth inning, Flynn to Murray to Robson.

McLaren pitched the first six innings for Carmangay when he was relieved by Walker. This change however did little toward stopping the hitting of the Vulcan club. This gave "Cole" Carmangay's centre fielder a great chance to demonstrate his fielding ability when he gathered in a number of fly balls without an error. Charlie Starr collected a three-base hit and a two-bagger doing easily the best hitting for the visitors.

Owing to the disagreeable weather the crowd was not what was hoped for. But with better climatic conditions the Vulcan supporters will see a snappy interesting brand of sport on the local diamond throughout the summer.

Carmangay 0 0 0 1 1 1 1 0—4
Vulcan 1 2 0 2 1 0 5 10—12

Line-up—
Vulcan—Murray, 2b; Love, lf; Recor c; Robinson, rf; Marshall, cf; Flynn, 3b; Ferguson, ss; Busby, p.

Carmangay—McLaren, p and 1stb; Walker, p and 1st b; Smith, c; Watt, c; Crowe, Starr, Hamilton, Hubka, Cole and White.

Vulcan 8—Blackie 1

An interesting game was played on the local diamond on Friday evening, May 22nd when Vulcan defeated Blackie 8-1. The feature of the game was Welliver's pitching for Vulcan as the Blackie batters did not seem to connect with his speedy ball.

Hart, a youngster, pitched the first five innings for Blackie when the great Dick Speer relieved him in the box. Speer will be remembered as playing first base and pitching for Vulcan's team last season and is a past master of the game.

Vulcan's batting was again a feature of the game and resulted in the uneven score.

EASTWAY NEWS

A baseball game played between the Eastway and Berrywater scholars at Eastway on Friday evening, resulted in a decided win for the visitors.

Mr. H. F. Boose met with an accident while on his way to the Kirkcaldy elevator with a load of grain. The accident occurred on the hill west of town about a quarter of a mile. Mrs. D. C. McIntyre's Death is Very Much Regretted

Mrs. Catherine McDonald McIntyre passed away at her home in Ensign on Sunday, May 17th, to the sincere regret of a large circle of friends who are expressing sympathy with the bereaved.

Mrs. McIntyre, daughter of the late Hector and Isabella McDonald, was born on April 8, 1864, at McIntyre, township of Caprey, county of Grey, Ontario, where she lived until married on January 25, 1893, soon afterwards moving with her husband to Athena, Oregon, U.S.A., where they resided until 1911 when they came to Calgary, remaining in that city until 1916 when they removed to the present farm home near Ensign and Vulcan.

Mrs. McIntyre's Scottish ancestors were early pioneers in the province of Ontario, arriving there when the territory was a virgin forest. Her people were Presbyterians with which denomination, during her early girlhood days and ever since, she was a member and very active in church affairs.

Deceased lady, by her congeniality, strong character and personality made (wherever she lived) hosts of warm and loyal friends. She was most charitable during her whole life, thinking first of those in more need than herself. Mrs. McIntyre has been in failing health for about one year, gradually growing worse during the past four or five months until the end came.

The funeral took place on Wednesday, May 20. There was a short service at the home, conducted by Rev. J. J. Farquar of Ensign and Brant, and a further service was held in the United Church, Vulcan, where Rev. J. N. Brunton assisted Mr. Farquar. Interment was made in Vulcan cemetery. Pallbearers were John D. McIntyre, Claresholm; Donald McDonald Sr., Brant; Edward J. Taylor, Nanton; John A. Taylor, Cayley; George A. Churchill, Ensign, and Lyle A. McIntyre, Ensign.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

The husband and son, Duncan C. and Archie D. of Ensign; one sister, Mrs. W. G. Spooner and brothers Donald and John Alexander, all of Toronto, Ontario; James P. and Peter T. McDonald of Duluth, Minn.; and George McDonald, youngest brother, who still lives on the old Mad River homestead in the county of Grey, Ontario. Many of her close relatives reside in Alberta.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all friends and organizations for their thoughtfulness and kindness manifested during the illness of Mrs. C. D. McIntyre and for sympathy in our recent bereavement.

LAVISH DISPLAY

A city paper remarks that one would never know from the numbers of fashionably dressed women on the streets that there is any truth in all this talk of hard times.

The same conditions prevail pretty generally over the country. There is evident of every side the inclination and ability of the general public to dress fashionably.

Normally, this is entirely praiseworthy, if it can be afforded. Most people derive great satisfaction from being well dressed. The consciousness of "looking well" is important psychologically. It stimulates self respect and furnishes confidence. Bright spring clothes are a sort of shining armor with which to greet the possibilities of the new year. They contribute an inspiring note in the symphony of spring.

However these are not normal times, and while superficially it is cheering to think that there has been no inclination to dress in garments of gloom or to exercise restraint in the purchase of clothes, yet everyone realizes that beneath the surface of the social life, there are many in the cities who are not only without spring clothes but without clothes of any sort. These however, are not visible on the streets to throw a discordant note into the bright and fashionable throng.

There are perhaps many who carry on their minds no burden of thought for those less fortunate who are inadequately clothed and poorly fed, so long as they themselves are cradled in every comfort.

But there are many others, who though making a brave and well dressed appearance, nevertheless are denying themselves many personal indulgences, in order that they may pass on a few necessities to the destitute. One finds in conversation with city people that the intelligent and humanitarian citizens, are restricting themselves in their daily living and giving a helping hand to others. It is becoming "good form" in certain circles to exercise restraint in all forms of hospitality and to adopt something of the simplicity which was general during war years.

Possibility the only reason that this example has not been followed in smaller towns, is because townspeople are not brought into such daily touch with the results of unemployment as are cities.

Yet circumstances prevailing at present, are quite as worthy of thoughtful consideration as the circumstances of wartime. This is an emergency situation quite as much as war conditions. A little less lavishness in purely personal spending, and a little more generosity toward the well-being of the under-nourished children of the country, would be most praiseworthy.

The cry of the day is to spend as you have always spent if you can afford it, and thus maintain the circulation of money. This no doubt is wise advice, but it is also important that intelligence and a certain amount of social consciousness go into the spending. Spend in such a way that your spending will do most good.

CASH TO SPARE

If business is below the peak generally, it is a fact nevertheless that thousands of persons have cash to spare for amusement. Hockey games of $15,000 several nights in the week are common in this country, while over in Great Britain, multitudes pay to see football and other games. At the international soccer event between England and Scotland at Glasgow, the spectators numbered 100,000 and railroads reported carrying 35,000 enthusiasts from all parts of England for the match. These are not signs of depression.—Hamilton Spectator.

KEEP YOUR TEMPER

Crimes of violence have been sweeping over the country of late, and the reader is appalled by the occurrence daily, of murders and suicides. These are not crimes in far places but have stricken homes and people in our own dominion and our own province. Unbelievable deeds have been committed amongst ordinary people like ourselves.

Mercifully, this district so far has continued its peaceful course, spared any of these conspicuous horrors. Possibly our people are of stronger mettle. Certainly they have not been so severely tried as have those in many parts of the country.

Underlying the majority of these crimes are stories of discouragement, of over worry, of a discordant domestic atmosphere, and of a final break in self control, all leading up to culminating violence.

And it is "the circumstances leading up to the crime" which issue a warning even to the sanest and calmest, in these troublous times. Each one points to a gradual yielding to overmastering worry and to temper.

Even in this relatively happy district, it is difficult at times to fight off the depression which hovers, mentally, over the country. It requires stamina to remain even-tempered and to keep a serene front. Little disagreements which normally would be laughed off as nothing, are apt to find fertile lodgement and to grow. It is easy to be irritable with friends, neighbors and with family.

But it is only as each individual realizes the necessity for maintaining his self control and a cheerful mental state, that the community continues to be "normal."

In the last analysis, the enduring happiness of life lies in the serenity of home and neighborhood relationships. And the maintenance of that serenity is a responsibility of every individual.

It is inconceivable that anyone in this district will start tearing round committing murder and mayhem but it is quite conceivable that some may permit themselves to let little worries "get them," until those worries assume undue proportions. It is quite conceivable that many of us are thinking too much of these "hard times," and too little of the abundance of blessings with which we are surrounded—the good rich earth, the green trees, the sunshine, the health of ourselves and families, our many kind and congenial friends.

Undoubtedly dull times, require a sturdy mental stamina. They bring out the best and the worst in people. If we can individually and as a community suppress all the worst, and develop the best, we will ride out of the shadows triumphantly without any bitter lasting memories.

COAL MUST BE SOLD

Although there have been efforts during the past few years to solve Alberta's coal problem through Ontario markets, the coal mining situation in Alberta still remains as acute in a small way as the world situation in wheat. It is evidently as difficult to dispose of certain products within our own Dominion, as it is to dispose of others outside the Dominion. Millions of tons of coal are imported into Eastern Canada, a great portion of which might be shipped from Alberta mines.

There is at present a drive on through Eastern Canada to induce railways in the railway stations, banks and other large buildings to utilize Canadian coal.

Whether this will have any result is not known. Pleas for Alberta coal have fallen on indifferent ears for many a year. Yet the users of this coal in Ontario speak enthusiastically of it, their only complaint being that it is not always available when wanted. Habit and certain advantages of transportation have disposed them toward U.S. anthracite and the habit is hard to break.

Dr. G. D. Stanley and Senator W. A. Buchanan are both presenting this matter before the Commons and the Senate. Senator Buchanan points out that unless new markets are found for western coal, the mines would be closed permanently. Miners in Alberta during the past year have averaged about two days work a week and a large population of Alberta is, as a result, living precariously, with no reassuring future ahead.

If the great factories of Eastern Canada, the banks and the railways, would use Canadian fuel in their activities, they would be demonstrating their interest in Canada's industrial recovery, and in the continuance of one of the great sources of employment—the coal mining industry.

It is not only Alberta miners, but those in Nova Scotia who are suffering, because so many Canadians will not patronize the Canadian product.

The Census of Canada 1931

In the opening weeks of June every family and every home in Canada will be visited by a representative of the Government for the great national purpose of taking the seventh census of Canada.

The census is really a stocktaking. That is, it provides the information to enable the Government and others interested in the development of the country to formulate progressive policies for the happiness, comfort and prosperity of our people.

All the information supplied is strictly confidential, and the officers of the Government are subject to severe penalty if they disclose any of the information which is given to them by residents in the country, to any other than the Government.

Furthermore, it has nothing whatever to do with taxation, or military service, or compulsory school attendance, or immigration, or any such matter; and the Government itself cannot use it except for statistical totals.

The Government representative will put the same questions to all, and it is your duty as a resident of this country to answer promptly and truthfully. The Government is very anxious to avoid forcing anyone to answer these questions, but it is empowered to do so in the few cases where individuals may refuse.

The HARVESTER-THRESHER SAVINGS INVESTMENT

Plan

Makes It Easy For You to Own a McCormick-Deering
Harvester Thresher

Under This New Plan, Every Responsible
Grain Grower Can Pay for His McCormick-
Deering Out of a Part of the Savings His Combine Will Make

CROP production cost figures compiled by McCormick-Deering Harvester-Thresher users show savings of from 15 to 20 cents a bushel as compared to the binder method of harvesting.

We are so confident that thousands of Canadian grain growers can make proportionate savings with a McCormick-Deering Harvester-Thresher that we have announced the MCCORMICK-DEERING HARVESTER-THRESHER SAVINGS INVESTMENT PLAN. By taking advantage of this plan you or any responsible grain grower can purchase a combine now and pay practically all the cost out of the savings you will effect during the next three harvests.

Under this plan you get a time-tried and time-tested combine backed by 18 years of field experience. The details of the plan have been given to all McCormick-Deering dealers. Go to the dealer in your town and ask him about it, or write directly to us if you prefer.

To the Holders of WAR LOAN AND VICTORY BONDS

A Statement by the Minister of Finance

IN THE dark days of the War, Canadians loaned to the Government of the Dominion many hundred millions of dollars to enable the operations of the Allies to be carried to a successful conclusion.

When Canadians loaned their money to the Government, they received bonds which were promises to repay them the sum loaned with interest at the rate of 5% or 5½% per annum. On the 1st of October next, $53,000,000 of these bonds become due; on the 1st of November, 1932, the maturity will be $73,000,000; on the 1st of November, 1933, $446,000,000; and, in 1934, $511,000,000 must be provided for.

It would not be prudent, either in the interest of the security holders or the country itself, to wait until these loans become due before providing for their payment or conversion. Action must be taken well in advance of the due dates to protect the credit of the country. The Government believes this an opportune time to afford Canadians the opportunity to exchange the bonds, which they own maturing in the next few years, for new bonds of the Dominion of Canada carrying interest at the rate of 4½% per annum, which is a very attractive return. Prior to the maturity date of the present bonds, those who accept this offer will, of course, continue to be paid interest at the rate as provided by the bonds they exchange.

Canadians who have always shown confidence in their country are earnestly invited to exchange the bonds they now own for bonds of the new issue. By so doing, they will render less difficult the task of providing for the future finances of the country, will enhance its credit and will greatly assist the Government in the present period of worldwide readjustments.

No money will be asked for and no new bonds will be sold at this time. It is proposed to limit the present conversion to $250,000,000, but the Government has the right at its discretion to increase the amount if Canadians indicate a general desire to continue their investments in the securities of their Dominion. The subscription books will close on the 23rd of May.

I earnestly seek the active support of my fellow Canadians in making this conversion, which is one of the largest financial operations our country has undertaken in recent years, creditable alike to Canada and its citizens.

R. B. Bennett
Minister of Finance.

SOVIET DANGERS OVER ESTIMATED

Opinion of Cairns, Wheat Wheat Pool Statistician, After Extensive Visit to Russia

The Wheat Pool representative, visiting Soviet Russia for many thousand miles states that the large exports of cereal from that country will be checked by:

- (1) Material increase in acreage in regions close to export outlets is only possible in areas where moisture is the limiting factor. Large section where many state farms are located are over run by Russian thistle.
- (2) There is a sharp upward trend in consumption of cereals, due to the greatly increased population and the great shortage of other foods including meat and dairy products.
- (3) The present inefficiency of Russian railroads and inadequate grain handling equipment.
- (4) Acute shortage of animals for animal power.
- (5) Acute shortage of skilled workers and difficulty in getting suitable management.

On April 20, 1931, only 8,200,000 acres had been sown to wheat in Russia compared to more than 50,000,000 on the same date last year.

The real reasons for last year's large exports were: (1) The above average crop particularly near export outlets; (2) no winter killing in place of a high normal; (3) unusually favorable weather; (4) ability of the government to collect grain; (5) the strict rationing of bread supplies.

White Russia's proximity to European markets is important. Canada's larger farms and incomparably greater efficiency and intelligence of operations, gives her the ability to at least hold her own in the long run against Russian competition.

TURNER GAS FLOW CUT 60 PER CENT

Order-in-Council Decries Drastic Restriction on Present Output

Last Thursday the Provincial Cabinet issued regulations restricting the flow at the wells in Turner Valley to 40 per cent. of the regular output. This is in line with forecasts made some weeks ago that some effort must be made to conserve waste gas.

This will undoubtedly be a blow to some of the oil companies which have heavy investments in the Valley, but the Government is merely meeting the public demand that the interests of the general public be protected. There seems no alternative but to conserve the gas now going to waste until such time as a profitable sale might be made of this utility.

People generally are disposed to regard the provinces' natural gas, not merely as something for the present, but as a heritage for unborn generations.

Criticism of the appalling waste has been made on every hand. Last winter there were 200,000,000 cubic feet going to waste daily which was enough to heat 75,000 homes. Little wonder that the Valley became synonymous with "waste."

The government apparently had no choice but to issue restrictions.

W. A. Biggs, ex-County Secretary-Treasurer of Renfrew County, Ont., has been given a term of three and a half years in penitentiary for the theft of $118,000. Fortunate is the town or municipal district that has a capable and trustworthy secretary.

Pay your debts if you possibly can. You may think your small account is of little importance to the grocer, clothier, hardware merchant or publisher, but multiply this small item by several hundred and it becomes a serious matter to your creditors.

MINISTER TO JAPAN BACK IN CANADA

Reports Importance of Ceremony and Procedure in Japan Approach

Hon. Thos. Marler, minister of Japan describes some of the difficulties of a foreign ambassador in that country. The minister must observe the strictest decorum. In public he must enter an automobile before his wife. He must not register for himself at hotels. He must appear to be quite indifferent to all money matters.

Ceremonial and rank are of great importance and the representative of Canada, Mr. Marler is escorted by chief of police, pathways are cleared, and observances which would seem ridiculous in Canada are strictly adhered to. But all his official travels, the greatest courtesy was shown and every means of information possible was supplied. The Emperor of Japan is a great biologist and very interesting in private audience.

Properly used, a quart of gasoline will move an automobile four to five miles. Improperly used, the same quantity of gasoline will move two or three trucks, two ambulances, and two hearses about the same distance.

SAM HUGHES STORIES RETOLD

Eccentric General Furnishes Rich Copy for New Book "Hon. Sir Sam Hughes"

Possibly no well known Canadian could supply better material for stories that the egotistical, likeable war leader, the late Sir Sam Hughes. His military secretary, Bri-Gen. Charles Winter has assembled reminiscences of Sir Sam in book form and tells many amusing stories. Two of these are recorded in the Left Handed column of the Lethbridge Herald.

One deals with the occasion on August 3, 1914, when Sir Sam Hughes, had the Union Jack torn from militia headquarters at Ottawa because he thought the British were not going to declare war on Germany.

He was reading press despatches feverishly, in a great state of excitement and anger because the British appeared to hesitate. "I can read between the lines. They are going to skunk it," he declared. Then he asked if the Union Jack still floated over the building. He was told it did. "Then send up and have it taken down—have it taken down at once, I will not have it over our Canada's military headquarters when Britain shirks her plain duty—it is disgraceful."

A stormy scene followed, but the minister of militia insisted on his order being obeyed.

The late Major-General Sir D. A. Macdonald, quartermaster-general, pleaded with the minister, fearful lest the story should leak out. Admitting that he had been a little previous and that they should wait until after the British cabinet meeting, Col. Hughes said: "Have it put up again, and we will see what the day will bring forth."

That he did not like cringing is shown by the following:

On one occasion, he criticized the arrangements in a western colonel's camp. The colonel, who did not know him, objected to his butting in.

"Colonel Hughes replied: 'Don't you know who I am?' 'I don't care if you are John the Baptist,' was the reply, 'I don't allow anyone to butt in here.' For a moment the minister's face looked black, then he beamed all over and stretching out his hand towards the other said: 'Well done! That is what I like to see. I am Sam Hughes—and I want men who can run their own show and take responsibility.'

Alberta operators ask that domestic coal from this province be specified for heating stations and buildings in Ontario that are now using coke and American anthracite. As unemployment conditions in the province are serious, it has been urged that these orders from the east would help materially to improve the situation.

Up to date the Dominion services have photographed 380,940 square miles vertically and 265,875 obliquely and the forests have been mapped on 89,440 square miles. In addition the provinces of Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia, and several of the pulp and paper companies have conducted extensive aerial surveys.

FARMERS MAY HELP IN CENSUS REPORT

Census Commissioner Urges Preparation Agricultural Statement as Per Sample Copy Sent

Some time ago there was sent out to all farmers a sample copy of the Agricultural Census which is being taken next month along with the general census. Farmers are asked to use this copy as a guide in assembling their agricultural information, and to do this assembling as speedily as they can arrange. The census taker will be along shortly. He may come at an inconvenient hour and under the best of circumstances this agricultural tabulation would take considerable time if left until the actual arrival of the enumerator. If farmers will prepare their statements ahead, they will save themselves and the census man much time when he makes his visit. Farmers are urged to give this matter attention.

The Turner Valley paper remarks that it's a sign a town is going back when the business men take in their horses at night.

That sign "No Shooting" prominently displayed on a pole in the peaceful village of Hartell, is apt to be misleading. The stranger gathers the impression that he must be going through Chicago—and he goes fast.

SOIL DRIFTING CONTROLLED

Professor Wyatt of the department of soils, University of Alberta, offers suggestions for the control of soil drifting. He advocates amongst other things, strip farming. This practice of working fields in strips is being carried on in south-eastern Alberta, apparently with good results.

The Calgary Herald publishes Professor Wyatt's suggestions.

The university expert states that where one inch of top soil has drifted, there is a loss of phosphorus that would cost from forty to fifty dollars to replace. Among the control measures he recommends are: Plow when the soil is moist, if possible; leave the surface rough; at the critical period to keep the surface soil ridged at right angles to the prevailing wind; alternate strips of crop and summerfallow substitutes such as corn, sunflowers, sweet clover and the like; include a fall cereal, such as rye, in the rotation; plant more trees for windbreaks; increase diversification by keeping more land under grass.

The value of trees in checking the force of wind has been demonstrated in all the prairie provinces. It would seem that the importance of systematic planting of rows of trees on every farm is obvious to all, and yet there are thousands of farmers in the province who have neglected this cheap way of protection against soil drifting. A campaign of education along this line by the department of agriculture would do much good.

He declares that soil drifting can be controlled. It is a problem chiefly connected with unrotated grain crops. The practice so generally followed in the past by Alberta farmers of planting wheat crops year after year is the cause of most of the trouble. The longer the soil is cultivated the greater the tendency there will be drift, but diversification and systematic rotation, including a certain number of grass crops, will do much to check soil drifting.

ADD a SUN ROOM

A small investment in a sun room makes a big difference in a home. Comfort is there and pleasure, where the children can play, or grown-ups enjoy a card game or the radio apart from the activities of the living room. A little lumber—a small bill of other materials—that's all!
